

THUNDERTANK PEDAL POWER CYCLE (BIGWHEEL)

Year: 1985 / Series: 1

- "Lion Head" handle bar
- "Lion Claw" hand grips
- Adjustable, 3-position seat
- 16 drive wheel and wide track rear wheels
- Rugged and safe construction

Seat has a built-in sword holder!

The Thundercats Thundertank Pedal Power Cycle, released by LJN, is often referred to as the "Thundercats Big Wheel," but it is a separate product from the Big Wheel brand of tricycles popular in the 1970s and 1980s. LJN released this under their brand. The Thundertank Pedal Power Cycle, features a three-wheeled design and the ability to pedal to make it go, and it was marketed as a way for young Thundercats fans to emulate their favorite characters and go on adventures. It's the perfect accessory for any Thundercats fan who wants to let their imagination run wild and experience the ultimate adventure.

BERBIL BELLE

(Companions)

Year: 1986-1987 / Series: 2 & 3

Ro-Bear Berbil Belle is Berbil Bill's wife and one of the first Berbils to befriend the Thundercats. She has 3 points of articulation and lacks battle-matic action, like other figures in the Companions sub-line.

• VARIATIONS

Berbil Belle, like other Berbils, exhibits color variations on her knees and toes, as well as on the flower, her nose and cheeks. The light cream variation features darker pink on her flower and a red nose, while the pink variation has a light pink flower and an orange nose.

Unpainted Hardcopy prototype
courtesy of Lee Howell

Unpainted Hardcopy Prototype
courtesy of Lee Howell

JAGA

Year: 1987 / Series: 3

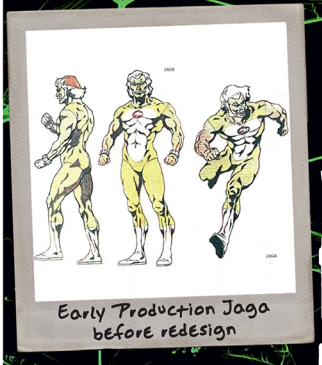

Jaga, also known as Jaga the Wise, was the oldest and one of the greatest Thundercats in the series. He selflessly sacrificed himself for the survival of Lion-O and the Thundercats. His figure has 5 points of articulation and a "Battle-Matic" lever on the back for moving the right arm up and down.

*Right arm
Battle-Matic action!!!*

• VARIATIONS

There are two body color variations of the Jaga figure, each with a different cape color. One variation has a yellow body and is slightly smaller, while the other, known as the "pale/peach skin" Jaga, is larger and has a very pale body color. Both variations come with light blue and dark blue capes.

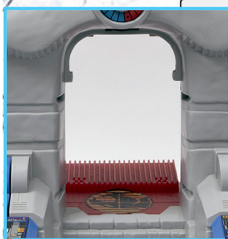

*Early Production Jaga
before redesign*

CATS' LAIR

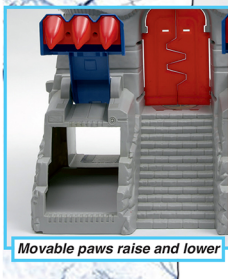

Year: 1986-1987 / Series: 2 & 3

Head controlled with two handles

Doors can be "blown open"

Movable paws raise and lower

The Cats' Lair is the legendary abode of the Thundercats, famously designed by Tygra. The Cats' Lair playset from LJN is a remarkable piece of art that offers Thundercats fans a wide range of features to keep them entertained for hours. With its intricately detailed design, movable paws and head, and trap door, the Cats' Lair can be used to defend against intruders or launch an attack on enemies. The playset also boasts electronic Laser Lights and sounds, which add to the excitement as you take aim at the Mutant Attack Sled. Taking action to the next level, the playset can even interact with Laser Sabers (sold separately.)

